

Seeking Community - Finding Belonging in Chaotic Times

Question 4: What does belonging mean to you?

Survey Responses to be known and accepted and loved Subjectively, feeling part of; objectively, being perceived to be included in the membrane or Feeling valued for who I am, that I'm accepted for my beliefs, attitudes, I can share stories and what makes me laugh and be accepted.
It is a feeling of being connected or in touch a sense of acceptance and an opportunity to accept others Being a part of something.
Belonging means being a member of a group or community. As a member of this group, you are valued for what you bring to the group. sharing a way to feel welcomed and accepted and engaged You fit in to be connected to Belonging means feeling wanted and comfortable where you are.
being valued being myself Be part of a sense of fulfillment or attachment to something -being respected and valued and part of a group inclusion
The obvious a feeling of respect, appreciation and purpose within a group of people being an active part of something part of Being an important part of a group. no matter looks races size disability every one should belong self and others feel you are a part of something total acceptance of who you are, more than tolerance or welcome, a place/group where people want you to be a part of it and would miss you if you were not there kinship, similar interests/beliefs , a desire to be a part of a group where you are welcome Being part of, feeling included, knowing I matter. connected, comfortable, safe have an attachment to Belonging means feeling wanted and useful in your community safety, away from hurtful/mean beings contributing to the benefit of all, acknowledgment of membership sense of home, friends Being fully part of a group Recognition that I matter and can contribute being connected, feeling part, strong inclusive friendships for everyone connected that I know where my place is and that others know I am at home in it knowing that you have an accepted place, that you are regarded with kindness and welcomed Seeing yourself as part of something belonging means that I have a very important role in community Acceptance
belonging means associations with others that are supportive, caring and clear. being cared about a sense of feeling connected to each other, of support Having a sense of familiarity and trust, where one can be themselves and allow others to do the A sense of place and connection to others

Seeking Community - Finding Belonging in Chaotic Times

Question 4: What does belonging mean to you?

Feeling part of something.
interconnectedness comfort identifying myself within a particular group or context A feeling of stability and permanence that supports a well-grounded experience Feeling like you are a part of some kind of collective A sense of identity; to know and be known by like minded people being a part of; being able to rely on in times of need; having the responsibility to participate as one part of a whole feeling you are part of something feeling and being part of something, or some place, or some group
- it means a sense of identity with others, with place, or with communities of people - along with a welcome and inclusive attitude toward me and respect from them feeling part of something like a family feeling a part of the community connecting with your neighbours A sense of being accepted, a place where one feels comfortable and at home feeling at peace, security, trust A feeling of comfort.
being a part of, feeling comfortable, safe and secure, A sense of "home" It is heart-speak for the warm feelings I have when I feel rooted in place and in feeling a sense of attachment and worthiness by association To belong to a group a space in time filled with traditions and people I can trust to invest new traditions that keeps me safe in my exploration being loved, having a "home", a safe haven, a sense of peace and contentment allowed to live in the community with my own beliefs being respected, while respecting others.
being a part of feeling connected, valued, important. Having something to contribute. seeing myself in others Acceptance
Acceptance. Being comfortable as I am within a group. can be formal or informal, attachment security
Belonging means one is a part of some group or organization. That belonging can range from active participation to passive or belonging in name only.
being part of something larger than oneself happiness fitting in, being needed and fulfilling ones needs, being cared about and caring for others being beneficially & mutually involved something in common, someone who cares for you & someone/thing to care for this is getting reductive a feeling that is obtained by being in a group Affiliation, co-ownership it means that there is a connection that implies ownership and the attendant sense of responsibility, care that accompanies ownership feel safe, welcome
To feel valued, loved, integrated in something Sense of oneself as being within/part of a bigger whole/entity. Seems to imply that you have the right to be part of this entity.
feeling like a meaningful, accepted, contributor A feeling of, or a desire to "fit" or "fit in"
Part of something I identify with

Seeking Community - Finding Belonging in Chaotic Times

Question 4: What does belonging mean to you?

feeling a part of something being where you are meant to be/welcomed with open arms feeling loved and valued having a sense of attachment to a place, culture, belief, value Finding a place where you feel at home A feeling that there is a place for you. people recognize me a feeling of safety and familiarity acceptance; having a role That I am not alone but part of a group of somehow connected people Important part of who I am and where I come from Feeling welcomed in society, a group, work etc.....feeling a "part of" rightness, acceptance, comfort, place, home, sharing can just be myself, without judgment, safe place very geographically focused for me. Where I can walk any where in my neighbourhood/community and have some sort of pleasant memory of the particular spot I am standing at. A friends house, a sports field, a school I want to etc.
Feeling part of a group having others recognize my strengths and value them feeling of connectedness and being valued/respected A mutually socially constructed relationship being accepted, being included, being part of things, being engaged
- everything - love - support - connection to others and the world a feeling of being an essential part of s sense of reciprocal need and appreciation for one another acceptance (not necessarily agreement), respect of ideas, shared interests/values, inclusion, compassion, shared passion Belonging has several meanings but at the core, for me, is ownership and connectedness. There is a sense of responsibility that flows out of belonging to a group. that I am part of something which I can help make decisions in, that I am part of something that others are glad to have me there for who I am being a member of Being part of; being understood on shared terms; having a commitment with end. to be a part of something Being humane and creative within and with others.
Feeling accepted, like my opinion / ideas matter. being loved; having a place to go, to call home or family; being accepted sense of place Recognition.
fitting in, being comfortable
To be accepted.
I can be myself who I am matters being part of something, caring for people and people caring for you, membership, responsibility/opportunity, feeling grounded and secure feels at home
Embraced as a whole person without the need to obfuscate true values and beliefs I'm going to be repeating myself - boring for you - sharing, understanding, the feelings we get from being one of the group: acceptance, safety, comfort, cared for family, friends, feeling and attachment to a group of people or a team attached to Being a part - included in things

Seeking Community - Finding Belonging in Chaotic Times

Question 4: What does belonging mean to you?

I feel a real part of something - group, family, neighbourhood etc I fit in Belonging means being accepted for my common humanity or fundamental human dignity. belonging is feeling like you are at home and are an essential part of the environment feeling like you fit in somewhere Belonging means feeling that you are appreciated and welcome Feeling a part of something outside oneself feeling like you share common interests with others -fitting in somewhere, having connections to someone or something Where I feel at home, able to be myself, and where people know and accept me Part of/ acknowledged/ valued Being comfortable and accepted being part of, feel welcomed I have a safe place or group of people through which I share life and receive a part of my identity.
To be aware of and part of a group Knowing that you have place where you are known a holistic concept where one is truly engaged in the process of living in a community finding a group of people that you identify with and want to be involved with a part of, member of, accepted by feeling accepted for who I am To be included in activities, playing cards, going to meetings, activities and part of decision making for the group Comfort, acceptance, supportive being a part of, inclusion that there are people around me who unconditionally support me and will help me through the feeling wanted and needed to feel an emotional connection to someone or something A feeling of support and caring
- feeling good about oneself in the presence of others. - feeling needed by others - feeling like one fits within their environment (social, physical, or other, etc).
personal sense of being part of a group, as part of self of identity being liked comfortable feeling feeling important, wanted, cared for, sense of feeling complete Relationships and participating in activities
- having a sense of inclusion, being comfortable where you are
security
belonging is feeling at home and welcome somewhere, feeling like you are meant to be a part of acceptance, comfort, being included mutually accepted and supported sense of connectedness security, safety, satisfaction
Being included
feeling right in a place (again, place could be conceptual) and feeling welcomed one of many Being included. Being cared for. a feeling of oneness and closeness with a group of people
being a part of something An emotional connection to a group or individual. part of, accepted for strengths and gifts and included

Seeking Community - Finding Belonging in Chaotic Times

Question 4: What does belonging mean to you?

Belonging means being a member, being recognized and identified as part of this community. Conversely, when a person speaks about themselves, they will identify this community as part of who they are, and where they spend their time and interest. On the opposite end, some people do not belong. Belonging means that you may have been invited, so there is a possibility of acceptance, openness, participation to be apart of something feeling complete part of, connected Belonging is that totally comfortable level Having a place. Recognition.
To be a part of something that we desire to be a part of. To have rights that cannot be dissolved. a word that describes a certain relationship between assets and an individual or a perception of involvement that an individual has within a network of relationships
being a part of Feeling safe and comfortable.
part of
being part of something great, moving collectively forward sense of place and caring that people know me and value my interactions with them To belong means to be part of someone else's life. This can be my wife, my church, my community league, my country, the land in the geographic area where I live.
a feeling to fit in, a sense of attachment where you feel comfortable and have trust with those around you I'm part of something bigger Being connected, acceptance, give and take being able to identify and be part of a group or community inclusion,
A sense or feeling of common causes with others.
Belonging is a way to counter the loneliness we must all grapple with to some extent all the time, that comes from being an individual in a rapidly changing (out-of-control?) world. Connection, connectedness, understanding, affection -- even love.
feeling at home, like I have a place Being wanted, having someone to ask for help, being valued belonging means feeling safe to be who you are without fear of being shunned by others, comfort feeling attached to a place or a group of people, sharing a sense of common purpose being part of something that is bigger than myself Connection to a place/group having friends I can talk to a part of sense of purpose, part of something bigger I feel no isolation feeling welcomed and included ownership
being at home an assurance that one is accepted -the "longing" bit in "belonging" sometimes puzzles me... is it a longing for the ability to just "be"? -oops, 30 seconds is up... having a comfortable sense of "place", not being isolated or set apart A sense that I have been found A sentimental attachment or strong sense of being needed or needing to be somewhere/with A safe place one looks forward to going to with people you care about. feeling part of something, feeling useful, loved, cared for. Feeling able to contribute, feeling worthwhile, appreciated identify with, have sense of purpose and being known by others and identified by self

Seeking Community - Finding Belonging in Chaotic Times

Question 4: What does belonging mean to you?

safety, love/affection/friendship, creative stimulation, shelter, and being able to contribute to the life around me contribute to my own sense of self, identity etc attachments feeling like I am part of something
being a part of something that is shared while acknowledging difference; comfort, shelter, bubble of like-minds, acceptance, challenge, honesty, commitment, trust, respect being a part of something greater connection, relationship, associated feeling part of, having shared duties and responsibilities "Belonging," to me, means a sense of fitting in, of being part of something greater than myself. It might refer to belonging to a group, or to a geographical community, or even to my own sense of self and my vision of who I want to be.
Knowing, being known and feeling connected Being part of an entity. (a family, a group, a nation). being art of something that is bigger than me being a valued part of something A place to relax being part of
As Robert Frost put it about home "when you have to go there they have to take you in" connection / acceptance and positive regard for self-expression, and shared values People helping people help themselves - I come home and know the children on my street - belonging to me means I have invested time and energy in getting to know the people who Feeling a valued part of the whole being accepted and a part of something important to me feeling part of something Attachment
To belong means that I have personal vested interest and am included.
Feel a part of something a sense of ownership, control (in cooperation) and primarily a sense of being known and respected
being a part of something a host of feelings and experiences that account for being part of or excluded from
being a part of Being myself in an environment where it is acceptable to be oneself, and to live comfortably that connected to something or someone Part of Part of a whole
acceptance
sense of place among people inclusive, engaged part of a system unconditional acceptance, safety, solidarity Feeling a part of something where I am welcome and that I have an interest in. Somewhere that I feel comfortable and have something in common with others that I am accepted unconditionally Belonging to me means that feeling that we are together, we are integrated and we value each beginning accepted for who I am comfort and acceptance Having a sense of connectedness to those with whom I belong. familial; trust; safety to be part of , membership, invested feeling invested, being an important part of a great whole Being part of - not being an other, being in

Seeking Community - Finding Belonging in Chaotic Times

Question 4: What does belonging mean to you?

being part of the world Being part of something- having a sense of identity with a group feeling a part of something to be included
acceptance
association welcome and contribution shared identity being accepted, being real, who you are without fear of exclusion feeling part of a community or group; having a position that receives and gives benefit it is a central aspect of citizenship, along with access, rights and responsibilities Part of something Inclusion Acceptance included, open to take part of feeling connected
That I have a place somewhere - my worth is important identity... being understood A sense that you are a part of something that is important to you. identification of others in relation to oneself.
To be known and accepted.
Belonging means that I fit and feel right be part of a group, a family
- a place of comfort To feel connected to a set values, beliefs, interests / to have and provide meaning assimilation sameness a connection between people or things based on similarities a sense of togetherness being a part of something that "fits" who I am and my interests and nurtures both; being accepted and respected for my particular interests and characteristics I am called by name when you belong you have a feeling of being needed by others feel useful secure comfortable
being a part of
being a part of....
Home.
"Belonging" means to attain and maintain a sense of purposeful pride in association with another or group of individuals. It can be associated with comfort and inter-connectedness.
being part of being a part of - ownership - etc feeling like a part of something inclusion - being accepted by people, into places being a part of a group community
I know where I want to be seen as a legitimate part of the group. When people smile when I arrive and ask me something beyond "how are ya" I have a basis to belong.
- acceptance by decision, or default (family etc) feeling a sense of being understood and accepted belonging means that I have a place, that I have a role and can make a contribution or accept help when I need it.
A feeling of being appreciated and loved that translates into reality.
Being part of/ inclusion Included
I feel connected to someone or something. membership, ownership feeling at home feeling valued, respected a sense of acceptance; a place where you can be yourself; where others can relate to you and you

Seeking Community - Finding Belonging in Chaotic Times

Question 4: What does belonging mean to you?

safety--emotional, physical; can be myself; not judged;
feeling a part of something to be a part of, to feel valued the sense of being connected to someone or something
being a part of
- being a recognized member - a sense of family or being in the right place - comfortable being part of something larger than self I feel connected a sense of connectedness having found the links; e.g. common values, common friends, intellectual stimulation, enjoying the same activities Feeling of security, of being needed, participating in community
being a part of something being part of something It's not a word I think about much, so as I reflect quickly I realize that "belonging" is something I do naturally, reflexively. If I don't belong I don't hang around long.
a sense of caring for each other being part of being given equal consideration feeling welcomed, part of a larger group / system, shared interests or values know my place within a group Feeling a part of something - a connection feeling like I have a place where I am known and am comfortable being there something I have ownership of being a part of something or someone else I can be who I am having others know and accept me feeling happy where I live Belonging means that I either self-associate or are associated by others with a particular group defined by a common place, set of values or beliefs, or other common identified a sense of being welcome and appreciated sharing ideals feeling that I am accepted, that I am part of something I am not alone Belonging means that you have a sense of how you can use your talents to increase community. you are a part of something greater than yourself Being accepted and supported (it can be physical, emotional and/or spiritual) Being safe and supported in a good spot. Acceptance of me and for me to accept others. the end of longing Belonging is a sense of alignment to others; a resource and an affinity.
Being part of a larger group/team. Inclusive being a party to, part of, reading from the same page Being known, included having a network or other individual who shows acceptance to you. Relationships that are based on connection and similarities.
Belonging describes some level of attachment being a part of something day to day
Being a part of something Being a valued member of a group of 2 or more people acceptance and being valued and needed community - friendships
- being part of - fitting in people knowing and respecting you

Seeking Community - Finding Belonging in Chaotic Times

Question 4: What does belonging mean to you?

Being part of something greater than me being accepted belonging means the experience of connectedness Security, warmth, potential.
One of a group part of something, security, enhancement of life, not alone, included I have an opportunity to Being part of or associated with a group feeling connected
being a part of something having people that accept you and want to be associated with you be part Feeling welcomed and valued by those around me.
Feeling valued and respected, where people are honest with one another, and nourish balance in a sense of being at home, accepted, accepting, loving / being loved
being part of something
Being a part of something
part of something a sense of fitting in and togetherness There by choice and being respected.
ownership
sharing/contributing to a cause with other like minded individuals, working towards a common You are accepted for who you are and you can contribute as you can.
- part of a group
being part of
I have a connection with those around me, we touch each other in ways that are mutually To be part of a group. having friends, being aware of issues, participating in the amenities offered richness of interaction as an integral part of a group sense of pride in ownership give and take. participation. respect and trust given both ways. to be a part of something, being accepted being a part of something beyond myself Belong means an intangible attachment to a group or region of people.
Again, the traditional sense of membership a connection that feels right and know I am accepted for who I am - no pretenses - my differences similar interests within a group acceptance and inclusion belonging means participation, acceptance, familiarity, trust part of, included, meaning feeling involved and important Identity. sense of connection / linkages between neighbours and community members feeling connected to others common interests caring Feeling a sense that you are a valid member of something. the feeling of fitting in, a place where someone feels comfortable being part of participating in fitting in
Be part of a the whole
A part of, membership, security
sense of connectedness
coming "home" to a place or people that know me

Seeking Community - Finding Belonging in Chaotic Times

Question 4: What does belonging mean to you?

Being part of, having links with, being responsible of... being a part of something - both in the active sense (contributing) as well as in the passive sense (benefitting from) Allowed entry with respect
Part of something
able to contribute in meaningful ways and to offer and receive support from
part of something
I have the right to be here; being here is right for me; I am accepted and valued as a member Belonging is sharing a common asset These questions all provoke much the same answer in me.
Security, purpose, reason, meaning, hope Belonging means to be part of, to be dedicated to giving to and thus receiving from in a mutual feeling part of something; connected; having something in common Knowing enough to access support, and be part of community events (even if it is just being the clean-up brigade at the community centre Halloween party.) Being accepted, making a contribution and being viewed as an intrinsic part of the group interrelationships that make us part of a collective Having place.
important to my identity and sense of self, fulfillment, having the ability to contribute Being part of something being a part of something, having a place in context of others A feeling of contributing to a group and that the contribution is recognized.
Respect; non-interference by others (not intruding in my life); contributing to the betterment of my community and country Not being alone, knowing that there are those that care about you Being part of something greater than oneself Experiencing an emotional attachment. being connected, part of Means being a part of being an essential part of something bigger feeling welcomed and having value participation in, sharing with, feeling and experiencing the support of others Fitting in, as who I am, not what I feel I must be.
feeling connected
security, identity, home fitting in feeling at ease friendship
To be a part of
-feeling like you can identify with others in your community -feeling as though you are like-minded with others

