

Learning Creates Change

The members of Vibrant Abbotsford have created a Local Learning Plan to explore how to unleash community potential for poverty reduction.

The purpose of the plan is to increase understanding of the causes, conditions, and consequences of poverty in Abbotsford, and to analyze the effectiveness of both past and current poverty reduction efforts.

This learning and research will help the group to determine the most appropriate strategic approaches to reduce poverty in Abbotsford.

They will also acquire the ability to convene and facilitate opportunities for action that will influence attitudes, policies, and practices at the individual, organizational and systemic levels in their community.

At the end of the plan's first phase of learning, the members of Vibrant Abbotsford hope to have reached a place of critical mass – a "tipping point" at which enough people believe in poverty reduction, and are willing to change their behaviour, to affect real and durable change.
