

Farm Worker Housing Study

The Quality of Life Challenge in BC's Capital region is undertaking a review of farm worker housing policies and will draft recommendations for the establishment of clear criteria to evaluate proposals. The project, which will be completed with other stakeholders with the assistance of Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation's Affordability and Choice Today (ACT) Initiative, aims to expand affordable housing choice for farm workers in the District of Central Saanich and address the critical issue of farm worker shortages for agricultural stakeholders.
