

From Minimum Wage to Poverty Reduction Strategy

An Alberta committee charged with reviewing the province's minimum wage agreed to raise the wage, but went much further. They recommended that the province adopt a provincial poverty strategy. Vibrant Communities Calgary worked with Alberta's Standing Committee on the Economy to arrive at the recommendation. Seven other provinces and three territories have poverty reduction strategies in Canada. Read about the Alberta recommendation at Vibrant Communities Calgary's blog, or learn more about provincial poverty reduction strategies here.
