

Getting Out the Vote

---

Opportunities Waterloo Region has a new website that will make it easy for voters, especially low-income voters, to find out how and, more importantly, why they should vote in the upcoming municipal election. Waterloo Region Votes gathers links to election related events and news in one easy-to-find spot and uses Google Maps technology to help users identify who is running in their area.